GOSPEL REFLECTION:

Today's Feast of the Epiphany celebrates the unveiling of the lights of Christ to the Gentiles. The backdrop; the reign of that brutal king Herod who had been appointed king by the roman Senate in 40 BC. He was a despot with a penchant for parricide (he murdered his wife, three sons, uncle and mother-in-law). His taste for blood, as we shall see, extended far beyond the family circle.

The Magi, astrologers from Persia or southern Arabia, followed a star (some scholars suggest it was a conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn). They followed the star to worship; Herod to kill. Saint Pope John Paul II saw in the Magi's search a parallel to the human journey: 'Whatever the age, culture, civilisation or nation, people are always searching for God. Like the wise men; they glimpse him through the eyes of faith, then set forth in faith in the desire to draw closer to him in whom they believe and come to him in the eternal Bethlehem. However, if they have not found him through faith, in looking for the truth they seek this faith, and so seek God.'

St Augustine echoed this: 'I would not have sought you, if I had not already found you.' When we search for God, we have in fact found him, for this desire for purpose, meaning and an attraction toward Jesus is a gift of the Holy Spirit. The light of Christ illuminates the darkness and leads out of the shadows into his glorious light. The joy of the gospel is proclaimed to everyone – for there is no other name under heaven who can save us. The light of Christ is also a flame which is like a lamp burning in our heart. We each play a role in making Christ known – his love, mercy and compassion extinguish the darkness.

Lord Jesus, on this most holy feast I proclaim that you are the light of the world, I dedicate my life to being a city on a hilltop and a lamp to radiate your life and light.

Follow God's Plan

And behold, the star that they had seen at its rising preceded them, until it came and stopped over the place where the child was. Matthew 1:44

God has a purpose for you. He has a plan for you and is calling you right now. Through prayer and discernment, you come to understand where God is leading you.

Our celebration of Epiphany centres around the three kings. Imagine these kings or magi. They are living their lives, and suddenly, they see something in the night sky. They see a star. Upon study and consultation, they determine it is a rare star, signalling the birth of a king. They begin to follow the star and set out for where it will lead them. Imagine the joy and delight once they arrive at the crib, seeing the Christ Child and conversing with Joseph and Mary. They found the one for whom they searched.

The magi were meant to find Jesus. They discovered what God wanted them to do. God has a plan for you. Ask him to reveal it to you, and when he does, follow wherever it leads you.
